Brookfield Residential wins prestigious Gold Nugget honor

Home-builder's Brighton Crossing model is finalist for 'Grand Award'

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (May 27, 2015) – One of Brookfield Residential's newest models in Brighton, Colo., has been selected as an Award of Merit winner in the 2015 Gold Nugget Awards competition.

The annual event honors architectural design and planning excellence, and the competition includes entries from throughout the United States and around the globe.

The winning entry for Brookfield Residential was its Freestyle 2 model in the Brighton Crossing community. At 1,853 square feet, the Freestyle 2 features an urban farmhouse design, with “walls of windows” and 2-3 car multi-load garages that allow homeowners to enter and exit from the front or back (per home design).

“Every time we win one of these Gold Nugget awards, we consider it a re-affirmation of the work we put into building our Brookfield Residential homes,” said Perry Cadman, vice-president/housing for Brookfield in Colorado. “We thank the panel of judges who chose us for this recognition, and we pledge to continue the commitment to quality that has put Brookfield at the forefront of this competition.”

Chosen from the elite pool of Merit Award winners, Grand Awards will be announced June 25 in San Diego as a feature highlight of PCBC®, the nation's largest regional conference and trade show for the real estate development field.

Now in its 52nd year, GNA is the largest and most prestigious competition of its kind in the nation. It honors design and planning achievements in community and home design, green-built housing, site planning, commercial, retail, mixed-use development and specialty housing categories. Winners this year were chosen from over 600 entries from around the world.

“Gold Nugget Award winners reflect our industry's best, brightest and most innovative architects, planners and builder/developers,” said Judging Chairman and Gold Nugget ceremonies administrator Lisa Parrish.
